A Golden Treatise of Mental Prayer, Meditation, and Devotion, Together with a Life of St. Peter of Alcantara -Peter of Alcantara 2009-11-23 The Golden Treatise is an admirably concise introduction to contemplative prayer. Part One teaches reading, meditation, and prayer, while Part Two offers additional instructions on devotion. This volume is prefaced by a brief life of the Franciscan saint by the translator, drawing on the writings of St. Teresa of Avila, whose work he had encouraged and supported. After studying at the University of Salamanca, Peter of Alcantara joined the Franciscans of the Stricter Observance. He was ordained priest and began preaching to the poor with much success. After two years of solitary retreat, he journeyed barefoot to Rome and obtained permission of Pope Julius III to found poor convents in Spain. In confirmation of his virtues and mission of reformation, God worked numerous miracles through his intercession and by his very presence. He was beatified by Pope Gregory XV in 1622 and canonized by Pope Clement IX in 1669.

Daily Life in Spain in the Golden Age -Marcelin Defourneaux 1979 A book about life in Spain from the succession of Philip II (1556) to the death of Philip IV (1665). The author relies primarily upon careful use of literary works and travel accounts written during this 'golden age'. In addition to delightful descriptions and anecdotes, he has woven into his text important political and economic developments. He provides a general view of Spain, stressing the importance of the Catholic faith and the emphasis upon personal honour, before surveying life and society in urban and rural areas. He then examines in some detail life in the Church, university, military and home; public entertainment; and the picaresque life.

'Grossly Material Things' -Helen Smith 2012-05-03 'Grossly Material Things' offers a new history of the making and reception of books during the English literary Renaissance. It explores the roles women played as co-authors, editors, translators, patrons, printers, booksellers, and readers of a huge range of texts, proving that women were central to the processes of making and manufacture that brought us some of our most famous literature. Drawing together a broad range of sources, from letters and diaries to plays and poetry, Smith's book is highly interdisciplinary, and promises to be of interest not only to literary scholars but to historians of the early modern period and of the book, textual scholars and bibliographers.

Visionary Experience in the Golden Age of Spanish Art -Victor I. Stoichita 1997-06-01 In this original and lucid account of how Spanish painters of the 16th and 17th centuries dealt with mystic visions in their art, and of how they attempted to "represent the unrepresentable", Victor Stoichita aims to establish a theory of visionary imagery in Western art in general, and one for the Spanish Counter-Reformation in particular. He reveals how the spirituality of the Counter-Reformation was characterized by a rediscovery of the role of the imagination in the exercise of faith. This had important consequences for painters such as Velazquez, Zurbaran and El Greco, leading to the development of ingenious solutions for visual depictions of mystical experience. This was to crystallize into an overtly meditative and didactic pictorial language. That Spanish painting is both cerebral and passionate is due to the particular historical forces which shaped it. Stoichita's account will be of crucial interest not just to scholars of Spanish art but to anyone interested in how art responds to ideological pressures.

The Interior Castle -St Teresa of Avila 2007-04-01 Written in 1577 and first published in English in 1852, The Interior Castle is considered one of the greatest works of Catholic spiritual prose. A painting of the spirit within a Renaissance landscape, this allegory of the soul as a castle is both poetic and didactic. Written in address of women, this work describes the seven concentric groups of mansions within the soul, each aligned to one of the seven heavens, and here is the map which gently, and with love and prayer, leads the female spirit through war, fear, and humility, into the ultimate destination-the central court and a spiritual "marriage" to God. The works of Spanish nun SAINT TERESA OF AVILA (1515-1582) rank among the most extraordinary mystical writings of Roman Catholicism and among the classics of all religious traditions. Her writings include The Way of Perfection and her autobiography, The Life of Saint Teresa of Jesus.

The Interior Castle -St. Teresa of Ávila 2018-10-11 The Interior Castle, or The Mansions, was written by St. Teresa of Ávila, the Spanish Discalced Carmelite nun and famed mystic, in 1577 as a guide for spiritual development through service and prayer. Inspired by her vision of the soul as a diamond in the shape of a castle containing seven mansions, she interpreted life as the journey of faith through seven stages, ending with union with God.
A Golden Treatise Of Mental Prayer -Father Fr. Peter 2017 This book, "A golden treatise of mental prayer with divers spiritual rules and directions, no less profitable, than necessary, for all sorts of people," by Saint Peter of Alcantara, is a replication of a book originally published before 1844. It has been restored by human beings, page by page, so that you may enjoy it in a form as close to the original as possible.
A Gift of Angels - 2010 It rises suddenly out of the Sonoran Desert landscape, towering over the tallest tree or cactus, a commanding building with a sensuous dome, elliptical vaults, and sturdy bell towers. There is nothing else like it around, nor does it seem there should be. This incongruity of setting is what strikes first-time visitors to Mission San Xavier del Bac. This great church is of another place and another time, while its beauty is universal and timeless. Mission San Xavier del Bac is a two-century-old Spanish church in southern Arizona located just a few miles from downtown Tucson, a metropolis of more than half a million people in the American Southwest. A National Historic Landmark since 1963, the mission's graceful baroque art and architecture have drawn visitors from all over the world. Now Bernard Fontana, the leading expert on San Xavier, and award-winning photographer Edward McCain team up to bring us a comprehensive view of the mission as we've never seen it before. With 200 stunning full-color photographs and incisive text illuminating the religious, historical, and motivational context of these images, A Gift of Angels is a must-have for tourists, scholars, and other visitors to San Xavier. From its glorious architecture all the way down to the finest details of its art, Mission San Xavier del Bac is indeed a gift of angels.

Interior Castle -Saint Teresa (of Avila) 2009-01-01 In the 16th century, St. Teresa of Avila used a castle with seven chambers as a metaphor for a person's spiritual development. Free of religious dogma, this modern translation by Mirabai Starr renders St. Teresa's work a beautiful and practical set of teachings for seekers of all faiths in need of spiritual guidance. It also places this classic in a contemporary context, reasserting its importance even after more than 400 years.Penguin Group
Golden Treatise of Mental Prayer -St Peter de Alcántara 2020-07-29 The Spanish mystic St. Peter de Alcántara is known as the patron saint of night watchmen, as well as the patron saint of Brazil. In A Golden Treatise of Mental Prayer, we're treated to a glimpse into the fascinating life of this remarkable Saint who, while in prayer and contemplation, was reported to have been seen levitating and was known to perform miracles. We're also introduced to his methods of contemplative prayer and his teachings. Preferring to preach to the poor, Peter drew much of the inspiration for his teachings from the Old Testament, and his focus was almost always on the topic of compassion.
